

HAT-PIN BATTLE AIRE IN COURT

Judge Diehl Listens to Testimony
Regard to Quarrel Between Women in Store.

THRUST AND PARRY EXHIBIT

Story of How Mrs. Misell and Mrs.
Pansy Street Clashed Over a Bargain Counter.

If you were jabbed two or three times with the business end of a hat pin sharpened for the occasion, would you jump or be inclined to make any remarks as a result? If you were jabbed a dozen times, or 100 times, or 112 times, would you then manifest any unusual speed in locomotion?

These questions are asked because they were put up to Judge C. B. Diehl in the criminal division of the city court this morning when the case of the city vs. Pansy Street, charged with battery upon Mrs. Margaret Misell, was concluded. Judge Diehl did not answer the question directly but intimated that he took the same view of the matter as did Asst. City Atty. Edgar Rogers, to-wit, that if a person were jabbed with a hat pin several times, or even once, that person would not fail to see the point, or feel it, and make a demonstration that would leave no room for doubt.

Now, to tell the story and come to the point it is necessary to digress a trifle:

STORY OF THE MIXUP.

On or about April 25 there was quite a mixup in the People's Cash store on First South and Richards street between Mrs. Misell, her daughter and Miss Pansy Street who is now Mrs. Pansy Street. The women quarreled over a couple of rings that had been traded and the result of the mixup was that Miss Street was sent to jail in the city, giving that member a black, purple and white hue. Miss Street was arrested for battery but as she was then under 18 years of age the case was sent to the juvenile court. She was sent back to Judge Diehl's court when it became known that Miss Street had married, and that her name became Street.

In the trial of the case the defense sought to show that there was more than considerable provocation for the assault; that Mrs. Misell followed the defendant and the latter's mother up and down the store jabbing them with a sharp hatpin. The defendant declared that Mrs. Misell used the hatpin a dozen times. The mother said the complainant jabbed the hatpin in them 101 times or more. This morning Adam Street, the young brother of the defendant testified that Mrs. Misell used the hatpin two or three times. He also testified that she said all the other ladies who were on the receiving end of the "deadly weapon" paid little or no attention to the threats; that they did not cry out; did not jump, and did not say a word.

Miss Elizabeth Black, a witness for the prosecution, testified that she was present during the altercation over the rings and that she saw all the other ladies who were on the receiving end of the hatpin. She testified that Mrs. Misell struck the defendant in the face with a paper.

ARGUMENTS IN ORDER.

Arguments were then in order and Asst. City Atty. Rogers took the view that at least a mixup had been made with reference to the hatpin episode. He said that, according to the testimony of the defense, the weapon had been jabbed with considerable force into the bodies of two women at least 101 times and possibly 112 times, but called attention to the testimony of the boy Adam to the effect that neither of the women was assaulted, as alleged, paid any attention to said jabbing, and did not indicate by vocal expression that either felt the hatpin.

"Now I submit," said Mr. Rogers, "that if either of these women were jabbed with a hatpin once, a dozen, a hundred or even a hundred and twelve times, some slight remark would have been made by one or the other, or both, and they would have moved away possibly a little faster than usual; that is, unless they were either deaf or paralyzed. It may be possible that one may receive the point of a hatpin several times in various parts of one's anatomy without showing any appreciation of that fact, but as I have been in Missouri, it will be necessary to give me a demonstration before I am convinced."

Atty. Gaffney, for the defense, ignored the point and argued that the fuss was a trivial affair and should never have been brought into court.

Judge Diehl expressed grave doubt as to the hatpin allegation and also the striking with a newspaper. He was of the opinion that the assault was entirely unprovoked and assessed the fair and just sum of $15. Notice was given of appeal and a bond of $30 furnished.

GRANAT FOUND GUILTY.

Frank Granat, a saloonkeeper who was arrested several weeks ago on the charge of interfering with an officer by preventing a police officer from serving a warrant on a foreigner who was stopping at Granat's place, was this morning found guilty as charged and sentence will be pronounced tomorrow morning. At this point the jury docket closed and the court began preparations for a breakfasting until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

IN DIEHL'S COURT.

The case of the state vs. Arthur Hubbard, charged with grand larceny, came up before Judge Diehl today in preliminary hearing. The testimony of the complaining witness, Rudolph Fields, was taken, as the latter has to leave town tomorrow.

Hubbard is accused of stealing a suit case containing a suit of clothes, a hat, a revolver and a number of other articles, totalling in value $300. Fields identified the articles and gave the value thereof. The matter was continued for further hearing until the 20th.

Robert Harrington, accused of beat-

BIG FIRE AVERTED.

Salt Lake Hardware Company Has Narrow Escape from Burning Out.

For some time this morning the Salt Lake Hardware store was in danger of destruction by fire and a great deal of damage would undoubtedly have been done but for the timely discovery of the blaze and the prompt and efficient work on the part of the fire fighters from headquarters under Acting Chief Ayland.

Spontaneous combustion among a lot of old rags in the basement was the cause of the blaze. It occurred at 3:30 and some one saw smoke issuing from the place and turned in an alarm. The firemen arrived just in time to a quantity of paint and turps. The fire fighters had quite a hard job on their hands for a few minutes, but managed to extinguish the flames before the building was damaged. The loss to the contents is estimated at $100, which is covered by insurance.

CAMBRIAN DAY.

Tomorrow the Local Welshmen Will Take Pilgrimage to the Lake.

Cambrian day at Saltair tomorrow will doubtless surpass anything of the nature yet held by Welshmen in this state. As usual the musical portion of the day's program will be a feature and this year will be a bigger feature than any other. The program will be held in the Coliseum, a building with fine acoustics and comfortable seating arrangements. Mrs. Emma Ramsey-Morris, Esther Davis, Horace S. Evans, Charles Kent, David Reese, Will D. Phillips, Evan Arthur and Prof. H. E. Giles will be among the artists who will contribute to the excellency of this program. The band, under the direction of Manager A. S. Zimmerman, will play "Reminiscences of Wales," an arrangement of the most familiar Welsh songs and hymns. The program will be completed by a performance of the 4th train from Salt Lake at the resort.

CLOTHES LINE STRIPPED.

Open Season for Sneak Thieves Starts
Auspiciously With Big Haul.

Watch out for your washing. The clothesline thief is abroad and last night made quite a haul.

The residence of Mrs. Guy McCashland, 925 West First South street, was visited and a large quantity of clothing and other articles stolen. The family washing was hung out last evening to dry and this morning Mrs. McCashland found that the clotheslines had been stripped during the night. The thief took underwear, pillowcases, sheets, towels, and in fact everything that had been hung out to dry. The case was reported to the police this morning and Tom Pitts detailed some of his most trusted men to run down the thief and recover the property.

WOOL GOES UP.

Notice Received Here Today of 5 Per Cent Advance in London Market.

Wool is up in London, and that means that the western market is scheduled for another rise. A telegram received today at the offices of the Utah Wool Growers' association states that the London market today advanced 5 per cent. In America the market is already up to over 20 cents, while it started here in the shearing season at 5 and 7 cents.

The news of this new rise in value will be especially welcome to the owners of the 2,000,000 pounds of storage wool shipped from Utah to Philadelphia, who refused the offers of 10 and 12 cents for the principal western cuttings are now out of the hands of the growers and into the hands of big dealers who are now working the price up preparatory to the buying season for the clothing factories.

FOUND WITH THE GOODS.

Men Arrested for Burglary Have Stolen
Watch in Their Possession.

This morning Officer Phillips and Detective Wilson arrested Earl Mitchell and C. A. Leorch on the charge of burglary. It is alleged that the men entered the room of Henry Frymoyer in the Wellington hotel last night and stole a valuable gold watch. The affair was reported to the police this morning and officers were detailed on the case. Phillips and Wilson observed the two men on First South street trying to dispose of a watch and they arrested the men on suspicion. At headquarters the missing watch was found on Mitchell. Neither man would make any statement whatever as to how they became in possession of the watch.

SALT LAKE NEW THEATER A BEAUTY

Plans for the Auerbach Structure
Arrive from Seattle This Morning.

STRUCTURE OF SIX STORIES

Seating Capacity is to Be 1,700, Which Will Be the Largest in the City to Date.

The plans in blue print for the Auerbach theater on east Third South street, were received this morning. Manager Wallace from Architect E. A. Houghton of Seattle. They are quite voluminous, and show an edifice that will prove an ornament to the town. The front elevation is six stories, 110 feet on the south side of the street, with a depth of 160 feet. The structure will be divided into parts, an apartment house in front, and the theater at the rear. One small and two large stores will occupy the ground floor, with the theater entrance in the center. The auditorium is so designed that the stage can be easily seen from any part of the hall, including the 12 boxes. There are two balconies, the seating capacity being 1,700, and the size of the stage 35x50 feet, with a lofty proscenium. The superintendent of construction is under H. A. Hodgson of Seattle who is already on the grounds, and has his shed built ready for business. The excavation has been completed, and as soon as Manager Wallace and his associates have given the Auerbach estate have gone over the plans, and made desired changes, building operations will begin. The plans arrived rather late this morning, and Mr. Wallace will require a couple of days in which to consider them. He says changes will be made, but could not state this noon just what they would be. The plans suggest a very early completion of the auditorium, and owing to the proximity of the building to Main street, the apartment house part will be spoken for in short order.

RAILROAD NEWS.

SAFETY DEVICE TRIAL.

To Be Made on Burlington Under Direction of Interstate Commission.

Chicago, July 15.—The question as to the possibility of preventing both head-on and abutting collisions between railroad trains on either single or double track, has been determined by a committee of the American Railway association in an inspection of safety devices which will be adopted on the Burlington road Friday.

The inspection will be the first installation of safety devices which has been made under the direction of the Interstate commerce commission under the authority granted to it by Congress, which appropriated $50,000 for the purpose. One device consists of an arrangement attached to the track and projecting above it. When the engine of a train approaches the device it is set for operation and should the signal be overrun, a valve is opened underneath the engine which lets out the air and sets the brakes.

Another device is granted to make a collision of any kind, even on a single track, an impossibility. It is said that the device is such that when a train enters a "block," it sets a stop apparatus at the other end of the block. With this set for operation, if an engineer attempts to disregard the signal and to enter the block from either direction, the automatic stop device will be set, and the locomotive, setting the brakes and bringing the train to a full stop.

WILL COST MORE.

Five Millions Added to Original Estimated Cost of C. M. & St. P. Line.

New York, July 15.—The cost of the Pacific Coast extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, which is expected to be open for traffic on July 1, 1909, will be about $5,000,000 more than the company originally reckoned on, it was said yesterday by an officer of the road. This additional cost is due to the decision to run the road at a lower grade over the mountain division than was at first planned. The total cost of the project is now put at $77,000,000 but as $100,000,000 of preferred stock has been sold, the company is expected to balance for future contingencies there will be no shortage of funds, notwithstanding the increased cost.

CEILINGS FALL.

There are tenants of the Judge building who are to be sorry today. For weeks the office holders on the second floor have been struggling silently against a hundred and one inconveniences, such as painters daubing door jams and high priced desks with impurity, electricity being turned on and off through the walls when the painters had finished and no lights when the electricians had mused up everything. But the climax came when the ceiling on the second floor fell yesterday evening. Big patches of plaster fell at the Main street side and as a result it was impossible today to get into some offices. The hallway along the west side of the first floor was also plastered up by plasterers with their ladders and platforms. No one was hurt but Charley Warren of the Santa Fe and other railroad men who have offices up stairs are saying things this morning which have more sincerity than poetry.

It was impossible to reach the offices along the west hall. Mr. Warren and others had to jump out in other offices. Just why the plaster fell at this late stage of the game is not known. The walls and ceilings on the first floor have been tinted; on the seventh floor and those between on iron has been exposed other than the usual presence of moisture in new walls and ceilings. Those in charge of repairs say everything will be in tip-top shape by morning. But in the mean time Charley Warren and others have their offices under their hats.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Joe Pazaly Accused of Killing Mike
Bovich at Garfield.

Murder in the first degree is charged against Joe Pazaly in a complaint sworn to by Deputy Sheriff Joe Sharp today charging Pazaly with killing Mike Bovich at Garfield July 8. The killing of Bovich occurred during a quarrel between opposing factions of the Greek and Roman Catholic church in the same city. During the same quarrel, the following are charged with disturbing the peace: Mike Perlich, George Divich, Milan Chakab, George Saper, George Draskovich, two John Does and Joe Ulin.

FIGHT IN IDAHO WILL CONTINUE

Fred T. Dubois To Receive Attention at Primaries for State Convention.

DON'T APPRECIATE HIS FAD

Friends of Bryan and Democracy Are Urgently Trying to Eliminate His Personal Bitterness.

(Special to the "News.")
Boise, July 15.—The expected return of former Senator Fred T. Dubois from Denver, is renewing somewhat the discussion of the slight victory he won at the convention, and the future of his politics in Idaho. His being seated is not regarded as a victory for him. With his prestige backed by the acquaintances of years, it was a surprise to the Boise Democrats that he won out by such a narrow margin. It is regarded here as a decisive defeat for him and the fad he represents.

His slight victory has had the effect of increasing the zeal of those who stand for broad Democratic principles and who want to make it possible for Bryan to win the state this fall.

The action of the Democrats of the state will now be given uninterruptedly to Mr. Dubois. Their eyes are turned now to Wallace and they will meet him there again early next month. The fight will be a contest of fanatics shall run a side issue here under the name of Democracy and call it the real thing.

IN NORTHERN COUNTIES.

With the counties already in line against him and his fad, and with the prospect bright for carrying at least three out of the five northern counties, the anti-Dubois campaign here will be made to the Democrats instead of allowing the Dubois ring of central committeemen to name the delegates. Dubois will, no doubt, suffer an overwhelming defeat at Wallace.

His satellites succeeded in carrying Idaho county by one vote, and indications now point plainly that the anti-Dubois element will carry the primaries for which will be held on the 29th inst.

Kootenai county at the Twin Falls convention showed a vote out of the anti-Dubois and that in spite of the fact that the delegates were appointed by the Dubois ring up there.

This time primaries will be held and it is expected that Kootenai county will send a solid anti-Dubois delegation to Wallace. An active fight will be waged both in Latah and Bonner. In Latah primaries will be held, and it is said by those in charge of the campaign that in touch with the Democrats of the county, that the rank and file are hostile to the Dubois regime. A vigorous campaign will be conducted in the anti-Dubois line, and will not have the easy sledding that he had at Twin Falls.

Bonner county Democrats showed their lack of interest in the anti-Dubois campaign by sending only one man, St. Donnelly, to the Twin Falls convention, but from letters received here from the anti-Dubois Democrats there, it is believed that the Dubois party of Idaho, a Dubois ticket will be defeated.

CONFIDENT DEFEAT.

Look what you will, Dubois cannot defeat. The Denver convention only will give him a little breathing spell.

Local Democrats are loud in their expressions of approval for the strong program by the Denver convention. Pence, Rice, Rich, Garrett, McFarland, Perky and their associates who fought to rescue the Democratic party of Idaho from the control of its boss and make a platform broad enough for all of the Democrats of the state to stand upon.

So from being discouraged by the Denver decision, the anti-Dubois Democrats of this state have taken on new courage and will work with increased force to put up a winning ticket and a winning platform this fall.

They are determined that Mr. Dubois shall not run a side issue in this state this fall and call it Democracy.

COMING DISCUSSIONS.

Mr. Bryan and the Democracy of the nation have no more earnest supporters than are joined together under the anti-Dubois banner. Should Mr. Dubois win at Wallace, it will mean another campaign like the one of 1904, when national issues were not allowed to be discussed. The chairman of the Dubois state central committee, all attention being devoted to the so-called Mormon issue. Of course, this would mean defeat, not only for Mr. Dubois in this state, but for the party as well. The Democrats of the state will not stand for any such program any further on the part of Mr. Dubois and his followers.

The cry now is "on to Wallace" and anti-Dubois Democrats all over the state are preparing to get busy and be on hand promptly for the conflict.

The return of the anti-Dubois braves from the Denver convention was the occasion of a demonstration on the part of Boise Democrats, who met them at the train with warm expressions of approval for the victory they believed. Their work in keeping out the Dubois pet plank, makes it possible for the Democrats of the state to unite on a winning ticket and platform. This is what will be done. The declaration of the Dubois sheet here that the delegations of Ada, Canyon, Elsinore and others hostile to him will be shut out of the Wallace convention is regarded as a very thin bluff. Those delegations will be there and they plan to sit in that convention. They are of such caliber that they will resist to the limit in order to keep the Dubois ring in fraud delegates to take their places.

FAREWELL TO SHEPHERD.

Board of Directors and Orchestra
Members Assemble in His Honor.

Two pleasant functions in which Arthur Shepherd was the principal figure, took place last evening and today at 1 o'clock. The first was a dinner at the Alta club which lasted from 7 till 9 o'clock, at which the board of directors of the Salt Lake Symphony orchestra were hosts and Mr. Shepherd was the guest of honor. Those present: Mr. George D. Pyper, vice president of the organization, who presided in the absence of Dr. Goshen, the president; Joseph George, J. D. Spencer, Dr. J. T. White, H. G. Whitney, George E. Skelton. There were a number of informal addresses, highly complimentary to Mr. Shepherd, and a feeling response from that gentleman who earnestly expressed the hope that the symphony orchestra would be kept going and continue prosperous. A toast was also drunk to Hon. Samuel Newhouse, whose generous gift of $1,000 a year for 5 years, had enabled the orchestra to make the fine record thus far.

At 1 o'clock Mr. Shepherd and the members of the orchestra on the stage of the theater, where he bade them good-bye and where he was surprised and gratified to receive from his co-workers through the hands of Mr. Skelton, the concert master, a handsome fob and gold locket engraved with diamonds and bearing this inscription, "Arthur Shepherd, our friend and leader of the Salt Lake Symphony orchestra." Mr. Shepherd made a feeling response and brief remarks were also made by Mr. Pyper, Mr. H. G. Whitney and Mr. J. D. Spencer. A vote of the members showed that all were in favor of keeping the organization alive.

Mr. Shepherd leaves for his new home in Boston on Monday next. Mrs. Shepherd will follow him in October.

RESCUED BY COMPANIONS.

A narrow escape from drowning occurred this morning shortly after 10 o'clock in one of the ice ponds near Mt. Olivet cemetery. A lad named Matthews was swimming in the pond and lost control of his arms, presumably by a "cramp," and went beneath the water twice. He was just about to go under for the third time when companions seized him and brought him ashore. He was taken to his home, 642 east First South street, where medical aid was summoned. The boy was revived in a short time and has entirely recovered from his experience.

CLAYS CASE CLOSED.

Long Drawn Out Divorce Suit Decided
This Morning.

Judge Morse this morning disposed of the divorce case of Clays vs. Clays. In this cause Mrs. Della Clays is suing Mr. V. Clays for separate maintenance, and parties having been in court many times during the last half dozen years seeking to adjust marital differences. The couple formerly resided at Bingham, but of late Mrs. Clays has made her home in Salt Lake and conducts a rooming house here. Mr. Clays is owner of the Bingham Opera House, and has at various times conducted a saloon in Bingham. The present hearing was devoted almost entirely to ascertaining the value of Mr. Clays' property, with a view to determining what allowance Mrs. Clays should have, there being but little controversy of other matters.

The plaintiff asked for $50 per month, the defendant contending that the amount was entirely too much, under the Clays present circumstances. The court awarded Mrs. Clays $25 per month, and attorney's fees, the latter amount and the first 12 payments of the alimony were a lien on the Bingham Opera House, owned by defendant.

COOLER TONIGHT.

Is the Forecast of the Weather Man
For Salt Lake.

The mercury rose to 87 early last evening, and promises to reach about the same altitude before today closes. The low barometric pressure continues over the plateau with lowest pressure over Arizona, Montana and the British northwest territory. Another disturbance is central over the north Atlantic, north Pacific and middle east states, the barometric pressure is high. Showers are reported throughout the country with heavy rainfall in Arizona and New York. The north Pacific high pressure will cause generally fair weather tonight and Thursday in this locality, and cooler tonight.

The local weather office has prepared the following general summary for the week ending July 15:

The temperature during the week was above the normal in all sections, and the precipitation was below the normal except over the extreme southwest portion. The highest temperature was 101 degrees at Hite on the 8th and the lowest was 30 degrees at Farlow on the 10th and 20th. The precipitation occurred in the form of scattered showers and local thunderstorms. The largest amount of rainfall for the week was 0.21 of an inch at Modena, and 0.16 of an inch at Millville. At a large number of stations no precipitation occurred during the week. The sunshine was considerably above the normal. No damage was reported from high winds.

The supply of irrigation water was
